

BOOKMARK BASE TOOL V2.0.0.2 RELEASED
Bookmark Base Software v2.0.0.2 released

11 OF OCTOBER, 2006
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bookmark Base team announced latest release of Bookmark Base software tool v2.0.0.2 which is a portable bookmark manager. Bookmark Base is aimed to synchronize and maintain one set of bookmarks amongst different browsers and computers.

Latest Bookmark Base version now supports Mozilla Seamonkey and K-Meleon browsers. You can import and export bookmarks from that browsers the same way as from MS Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox and Opera.

Also, Bookmark Base 2 now supports XBEL file format which is an XML-based file for bookmarks. This allows users to exchange bookmarks with other web-based and desktop bookmark managers.

Bookmark Base featured on the market with totally new approach to bookmark management. Its key aspect is portability: user deploys Bookmark Base to any portable carrier device (like USB drive or iPod) and that's it – he will have all his bookmarks easily reachable on any PC with any browser installed.

Extra-short learning curve will allow anyone to perform complex operations on bookmarks with a few clicks using powerful Bookmark Base features. User will never see any duplicates; intelligent algorithm will wipe them out. If user has similar bookmarks structure in different browsers – bookmarks will be merged into one unified structure which will be almost the same as initial ones.
